Not recommend ONLY because "No Save local option" this is streaming only and I have a bandwidth cap because I dont live in town.. This is probably the best indie game I've played yet and it's literally under $2. It's actually a very engaging game that pressures you to reach your best time and compete with everyone else on the leaderboard. The game gets progressively more difficult the longer you endure, with the time interval decreasing between the appearances of the meme monsters. To add to the challenge, the vision meter does not reset and the number of LR mouse click combos increase, making it increasingly more difficult to keep your spaghetti warm. I can see this game improving by adding more levels with added mechanics, adding 1 or more click combos and even funnier sound effects. All in all gg 10/10.. Youka and Kiri plan dates for each other after reading random teen mag romance advice. Wasabi economics. "I'm ready my sweetheart." Tsukuyo is a(n old) wizard. Kiri is nyan. Bewildered Yuna makes a cameo. Everybody wins.

Worth every penny but the first CD with Ano is even better.. In my own opinion this game isn't set up entirely well, for $7 I don't believe it is worth buying, it seems more like a game that should be a free flashplayer deal. But if you want to make your own decision before buying it you can check out my video of my first thoughts here.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kccK88RaEBs>. Low quality than PS4 but more expensive... Great!! sign .HEY \u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665 DO YOU EVEN KNOW WTF A PUZZLE IS??? and what were u think with making number #3? fckn idiot\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665\u2665. Classic platformer with retro style graphics and an "interesting" protagonist. The game itself poses a nice challenge with good music to go along. There are a few annoying moments where you die to see where you need to go or projectile spawning off the screen and falling on you. Overall it's a decent experience, however there are other games that are simply more memorable/better.. Pretty darn fun brings me way back to the real mario games!! only problem i seen is you bounce off everything so when you jump a gap and something is to close on other side you run into it and it bounces you back makes you fall in gap. Other than that highly recommend this game if your old school but for the price i think everyone should own it cheap and fun!. I was pleasantly surprised as the game turned out much better than the screenshots suggested. They cannot convey the game's strong points: the narration and the dynamic world that reacts to your movements.

The way puzzles are controlled made them quite unique and fun to do. Some were a bit easy but most were the right amount of challenging so I didn't feel the need to cheat and look for a guide. Puzzle controls were also very responsive. While in most games you press a button and some bridge slowly starts moving, in Pneuma everything is lightning fast. If you spam the button fast enough you can turn said bridge into a spinning blur. This really helped to make puzzle solving fluent and I didn't feel like the game was trying to waste my time with busywork.

The protagonist's inner monologue is very well written and amusing to listen to as he prattles on about himself, always had me wanting to know what he'll come up with next. Pneuma as a whole was very entertaining and kept me going from start to finish in one sitting.

I bought the soundtrack and recieved a receipt for it, but i can't find it anywhere. Not in my library for steam or anywhere on my computer. Any input?. Tried to play, can't find servers. Friend and I use a VPN. Can't connect to his, I keep getting told "Other Player Disconnect." But, he can connect to mine. So, we play 15 minutes until we get a random disconnect. I can no longer create games as the button doesn't work. Reinstalled the game and the button STILL didn't work, which is pretty darn impressive. So, we're permanently unable to play this game together.

Upside? Well, at least I didn't spend anything on it.. Just tried it out, havent discovered all of it yet but its definately worth it.. rip player count :c. It's like Tetris mixed with shuffleboard. Not precise like Tetris you also have to aim. It's a pretty fun quick pick up and play game.
